School Improvement and Curriculum Consultant

Jovette Hiltunen

Jovette Hiltunen has over 14 years of administrative experience including Title 1 Coordinator, Elementary Principal, and Curriculum Director. Her work during the past several years has been directly involved with improving instruction as well as developing and implementing curriculum.

Jovette has led teachers through assessment mapping, curriculum planning, unit planning with differentiated instruction, and 21st century skills implementation for teachers currently in related specials such as integrated technology, art, and wood shop. She also has worked with teachers and administrators to choose textbooks that are standards driven and offered them in depth highly qualified professional development throughout the ensuring years.

Using a five-year plan Jovette, was able to help pre-K through 12 teachers review their curriculum and related materials, identify the gaps in the materials, and then choose new materials that would better match the standards as well as the challenges of differentiation.

Jovette's professional development presentations include national conferences at the Coalition of Essential Schools, state conferences, and seminars at the local colleges and universities as well as at district level. Jovette currently holds administrative licenses in supervision and curriculum, Elementary Principal, and Superintendent and she has been an adjunct professor of reading at Notre Dame.
